Description

A magnificent specially commissioned flared centrepiece by Sergio Constantini, of amber coloured glass with streaks of iridescence and a sinuous rim, with an incised signature, Vetro Atristico Murano label and to the base, Made for Kaufman Family Murano 2015.

Sergio Constantini was born in Venice in 1956. He learnt under many talented glass masters in Murano, such as Alfredo Barbini, Licio Zanetti and Luigi Mellera. He is known for his exquisite and intricate glass sculptures and his works often feature vibrant colours and unique designs. Costantini's sculptures, which include fish, sailboats and abstract forms, are highly sought after and have been featured in various exhibitions and collections around the world. His art is a testament to the rich tradition of Murano glassmaking and continues to inspire glass artists today.
